

COOKIE POLICY

This Cookie Policy explains what cookies are and how we use them, the types of cookies we use, the information we collect using cookies, how we use that information, how to control your cookie preferences, and more.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer or mobile device by websites you visit. They are widely used to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the site.

How do we use cookies?

We use cookies for a variety of purposes, including:

- To keep track of your preferences, such as your preferred language and the settings you have chosen
 - To improve your experience on our website by personalising content and advertising
 - To generate aggregated statistical data about website traffic and website interaction so that we can offer better website experiences and tools in the future
 - To analyse traffic on our website
 - To track the effectiveness of our marketing campaigns
 - To provide social media features and to analyse our social media traffic
 - To keep you logged in to our website
 - To comply with the law

What types of cookies do we use?

We use the following types of cookies:

- Essential cookies: These cookies are essential for the operation of our website. They allow you to move around the website and use its features. Without these cookies, the services you have requested cannot be provided.
 - Performance cookies: These cookies collect information about how you use our website, such as the pages you visit most often and any errors you may encounter. This information is used to improve the performance of our website.
 - Functional cookies: These cookies remember choices you make, such as your preferred language or the region you are in. This allows us to provide you with a more personalised experience.
 - Targeting cookies: These cookies are used to deliver advertising that is relevant to you and your interests. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an advertisement.

How can I control my cookie preferences?

You can control your cookie preferences at any time. You can choose to disable cookies altogether, or to allow certain types of cookies. You can also choose to delete cookies that have already been set.

The way you do this will vary depending on the browser you are using. However, most browsers offer the following options:

- Chrome: Click the three dots in the top right corner of the browser window, select “Settings”, then “Advanced” and “Privacy and security”. Under “Cookies and other site data”, you can choose to block all cookies, block third-party cookies, or delete cookies when you close the browser.
- Firefox: Click the three lines in the top right corner of the browser window, select “Options”, then “Privacy & Security”. Under “Cookies and Site Data”, you can choose to block all cookies, block third-party cookies, or delete cookies when you close the browser.
- Safari: Click the gear icon in the top right corner of the browser window, select “Preferences”, then “Privacy”. Under “Cookies”, you can choose to block all cookies, block third-party cookies, or delete cookies when you close the browser.
- Edge: Click the three dots in the top right corner of the browser window, select “Settings”, then “Privacy, search, and services”. Under “Cookies”, you can choose to block all cookies, block third-party cookies, or delete cookies when you close the browser.
